"Welcome to ConSource

ConSource is a free online library of constitutional history. We digitize and cross-reference source documents written by individuals who drafted, ratified, and influenced the creation of the U.S. Constitution and its Amendments. We also run programs and host events that make use of constitutional sources."

This is from the "www.consource.org" web site.

This looks very interesting. I see that that you are supposedly digitizing papers of James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, and Benjamin Franklin. How will what you are doing differ from what is at Founders Online: <http://founders.archives.gov/> . Many of those also have editorial notes. How will you be handling your stipulated annotations? Thanks.
